GUIDELINES AND DEFINITIONS

Bias

The question of potential sources of bias ordinarily relates to views stated or positions taken that are largely intellectually motivated or that arise from the close identification or association of an individual with a particular point of view or the positions or perspectives of a particular group. Such potential sources of bias are not disqualifying for purposes of the Society Board of Directors. It is necessary, however, in order to ensure that the members and the Delegates are aware of potentially biasing backgrounds or professional or organizational perspectives.

Conflict of Interest

It is essential that the work of the ASPE Society Board of Directors not be compromised by any significant conflict of interest, or in some circumstances the significant appearance of conflict of interest, on the part of any member of the Board or anyone associated with the Board (e.g., consultants and staff). For this purpose, the term "conflict of interests" means any financial or other interest that conflicts with the service of an individual because it (1) could impair the individual's objectivity or (2) could create an unfair competitive advantage for any person or organization. The existence of a significant conflict of interest is important information to the membership and the delegates.

How conflicts of interest arise

1. The Society Board of Directors includes individuals with strong personal, financial, or professional interests in seeing that the Society recommend or produce a particular outcome.
2. An agency, a sponsor, or a private organization or company attempts either to influence the Society Board members or to skew the body of information reviewed by the Board of Directors.
3. The conflicts of interest or bias can arise concerning individual points of view especially on contentious issues. For the Board of Directors, nearly all of the people of relevant competence have backgrounds of connections and experience that constitute, or can be construed by others as constituting, potential sources of bias in one direction or another. It may, therefore, be difficult to find individuals with the pertinent knowledge who have not been involved previously with an issue that will come before the Board. Such situations are resolved by the membership and the delegates by selecting a carefully balanced consensus-forming body so that all points of view can be represented.

To avoid conflicts of interest

Adhere to ASPE policies and procedures. These policies and procedures include specific questions and assessments prior to the election of officers to the ASPE Society Board of Directors to bring possible conflicts of interest to the attention of the membership and the delegates. Two essential parts of this process are, prior to the election of officers, completion of a short statement of inclinations, interests and affiliations that lists professional connections and indicates any positions taken in relevant public statements, and any other interaction between the Candidates and Delegates during the biennial Convention.

12. Civic, Charitable and Military Service

One of the areas that I have supported while on the Board of Directors is the ASPE Cares section of the website. While all of my ideas and suggestions have not been adopted, the site is alive. Pushing for more, I encouraged our leadership to start a Disaster Relief Fund following the storms that brought over 60 inches of rain following Hurricane Harvey in August 2017. We can do more.

13. Your answers to the following questions will help the members and delegates better understand each candidates position and goals as they make the best possible informed decision when electing officers to the Society Board of Directors. If you need additional space, use additional sheets of paper. Reminder, however, you fill in this form (e.g., hand written, printed, typed, etc.) is how it will be presented to the members and Delegates.

13A: Why are you running for this position on the Society Board of Directors, and what makes you stand out from all the other potential Candidates?

I am running to continue to give back to the society and our membership. We are building a pipeline of exceptional talent that is ready to serve and contribute to society. I am running for another term to help create opportunities for our chapter officers to reach their goals, develop lifetime relationships, and fill the needed leadership on priority initiatives.

13B: What do you suggest we do immediately to better the Society, and what you would do personally to accomplish this goal?

Consistency of leadership is a key contributor to the long term success of the society. Elections in 2020 will bring about more changes in leadership and contributors to the society board of directors. It will be important to have experienced contributors on the board that can help bring the new members up to speed and that can work in the best interest of society.

Continued financial performance is necessary to fund the initiatives of society such as PE working groups effort to create a Plumbing focus practical, increased presence in code and standard development and future research opportunities.

Over the next two years, my focus will be on supporting these initiatives and working with my region members to find opportunities to shorten the learning curve for their participation in society level activities.

13C: Every position on the Society Board of Directors has an effect on membership. Regardless of which position you are running for; how do you plan on retaining and growing our membership base?

We have been working to stabilize the chaotic cycle of bringing in new members and losing members to other industries. Our board of directors has been working with society operations to create sustainable support tools like ASPE Connect to increase our abilities to retain our members. We have been able to build on our foundation Region 5 and are moving toward a more sustainable level of membership growth.

13D: ASPE is a volunteer Society. How do you plan on getting our members more involved at the Chapter and Society levels to help advance our initiatives, and support our mission statement?

Region 5 is leading our society through an inclusive environment that promotes individual ideas and builds with collaborative environment where people work together. The Texas CPD course is a well attended example of how the chapters are working together. In addition, we have members who are active on all society committees. We have members that are leading as regional representatives and have a regional ambassador program. Activity level in Region 5 is higher than any other region.

13E: What types of new programs/initiatives should ASPE be developing immediately in order to reach a larger market of potential new members and industry partners?

ASPE is in a need to modify the messaging to the design community to reflect the changing makeup of our membership and the demographics of the profession.. We are addressing this at the board level and continue to move forward.

13F: If elected, what specific short term ideas do you have to advance the Society, and what long term plans do you have for the future of ASPE?

Having experience with society operations, staff, and the changing work environment has prepared me to better lead and advance our operations. Increased interaction and communications will be a high priority. I have been recruited to be part of several board of director working groups to help influence and execute updated communications schemes, marketing techniques, and streamlining annual reporting.

The future is going to be determined by our level of recruitment of engineers that are increasingly being trained in plumbing design. We have to pivot to adopt new technologies and maintain our historical significance to the profession.

13G: Membership has increased over the past few years. With the introduction of the Women of ASPE (WOA) and ASPE Young Professionals (AYP), the Society is beginning to obtain a younger member base. What are your thoughts and ideas to increase membership to new record numbers? What are your ideas for recruiting and retaining both younger and previous members? What are your ideas for addressing the large age gap between younger and older members?

The age gap is being bridged through increased mentoring programs. Increased understanding of the generational difference between our membership range will be a big part of our future plans. The board of directors responsibility is to help set the direction of operations.

I think we have to continue to solidify our base if we want to grow. Our membership losses typically take place between year 1 and 5. Addressing the connectivity of new members to society and resources are going to be key.

13H. ASPE has continuously relied on the affiliate member organizations to support the Society. What are your ideas to change this and how can we get our members to help support the Society other than with dues.

I don't believe our membership numbers are great enough to support our society without affiliate assistance. I don't believe that finding a way to lower the societies dependence on affiliates is a priority nor should be.

I believe that we should always look to find ways to have our members more invested in society. Studies have shown that people invest in ventures they believe bare returns. We have to be able to continue to create better communications methods to keep all members connected to society and well informed. In addition, continue to develop tools that are seen as valuable.

131. What should ASPE be doing for the membership that they are not currently doing?

Celebrating. I believe we have a tremendous wealth of experiences that can be transcribed into stories. These stories can be used to construct a major campaign to grow our membership and maintain our new members. One of the most important things any organization can do is to know what they are all about and know where they want to go. It is time for ASPE to embrace new technologies, use the experiences of our membership to help connect emotionally with our members.

14. ATTESTMENT OF CANDIDATES

1. I hereby attest that I have the authority and I am empowered to grant this copyright release.
